I WILL RUN TO HIM

Music and lyrics by John R. Rudisill and Leslie E. Bruggeman

Verse 1

A Mid-west boy who lived life among the privileged
He went to school with the brightest of his peers.
He was ob-sessed by his clothes and his looks.
For all those years, he worked hard for the cheers.
He knew his Fa-ther would fill up his check-book.
Still, he would strug-gle with all of his fears.

Chorus I

Now I will hide from Him, Now I will run from Him.
I live my life for me, to see what I can be.
I live my life to get all I can

Verse 2

As life pro-gressed he be-came a mort-gage bank-er.
But his suc-cess and his wealth provide no an-chor.
He became ill with a vir-u-lent can-cer.
He felt a-lone and a-fraid for his life.
Where would he turn to find peace and com-fort?
He felt such strive that it cut like a knife.

Chorus 2

I wish I could come to Him. I wish I could run to Him.
I feel so drawn to Him. I feel a call from Him
I am stranded and lost in my sin.

Verse 3

In that sad time, he re-lin-quished all to Je-sus.
He turned a-way from his selfishness and pride.
He tried to live for his Christ as his guide.
He knew Christ died for his sins and he cried.
He even gave of his wealth to the poor.
He came to walk with His God and his Lord.

Chorus 3

Now I will come to Him. Now I will run to Him.
I give my all to Him; fol-low the call for Him.
I give my life to serve my great King.

Verse 4

He doesn't know if he'll live beyond his can-cer,
But he knows that he has a migh-ty an-swer.
He has a peace that no money can buy.
He sees his old life as only a lie.
Whe-ther he lives or he dies he can't know
He follows Christ and we see that it shows.

Chorus 3

Now I will come to Him. Now I will run to Him.
I give my all to Him; fol-low the call for Him.
I give my life to serve my great King.
