

“Winds and Clouds”

Music and lyrics by John R. Rudisill, Teresa H. Rudisill, and Leslie E. Bruggeman

Verse 01

It's rain-ing to-day, the sun's in de-cay.
I feel far a-way, from all I seek.
I try hard to stand but I'm feel-ing weak.
where is this God of whom you speak?

Verse 02

Old stor-ies are told of He who brings peace, can calm the great storms with-in do I take a chance and place trust in Him and let Him heal my heart and sin.

Chorus 01

Winds and clouds, I see them all a-round, is there no hope that can be found.
God if You are there, come still the storm I feel with-in my heart is sha-ken to its core.
On-ly You can be my re-fuge and calm the stor-my skies for ev-er-more.

Chorus 02

Yes, I will, give my all to you.
Heed the call from you and be true.
Let the thun-der roar, let the light-ning flash, you're my shel-ter I'll serve you.

© John R. Rudisill, Teresa Hall Rudisill, Leslie E. Bruggeman, March 2019. All Rights Reserved.